NEW BRIDGE HERE OPEN TO TRAFFIC

A crowd estimated at 7000 people took part in the ceremonies here Saturday, May 17 to open for traffic the new bridge and causeway across Little River.

A parade two miles in iength got under way from the city proper at 10 a. m. and crossed the old bridge to end at the east approach to the bridge for the ceremonies.

Ceremonies were opened by E. A. Perrin, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee. He then introduced Judge Dan Tyson who was master of ceremonies. Judge Tyson paid a tribute to the late Jeff T. Kemp, county judge whose death last year came shortly after he had expressed anticipation over the coming event of opening the new bridge.

Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp cut the blue and white ribbon to open the bridge shortly before noon. Mrs. Kemp said "in memory of my late husband," as she severed the ribbon to end the ceremonies.

Fred Knetch of Seguin, member of the State Highway Commission said that the opening of the bridge marked a hundred years of waiting for such a passage way and would have been opened sooner but for the war.

Judge Tyson, after expressing regret that the late Judge Kemp could not have been here for the dedication ceremonies said: "We have waited a long time for this day when we no longer have to apologize and take criticism for not having a crossing when the river is out. Now we can say when the river is out "go right along."

Senator Kyle Vick was enjoying something of a personal triumph because he pledged the people this bridge when he was elected to the

KTEM Broadcaster Lost In Crowd and Misses Ceremony

Mayor McCullin called The Daily Herald Monday to explain why the bridge opening ceremonies were not broadcast over KTEM from Temple.

Due to difficulties in Temple the broadcaster, Mr. Whitesides arrived in Cameron ten minutes late and got tied up in traffic and never reached the platform in time.

Mr. McCullin, asked this explanation so the people here may know why there was no radio broadcast.

Mayor McCullin, chartering a plane at the municipal airport accompanied Paramount news men for an air view of the city and the causeway.

The mayor says that 743 cars crossed the new bridge immediately following the ceremonies and another 200 to 300 cars crossed over the old bridge. It was estimated that from 1000 to 1200 cars were ready to cross when the ceremonies ended.

SPECIAL SESSION OF SCHOOL BOARD CALLED

A special session of the Cameron School Board will be held Friday night May 23 to discuss current contracts with faculty members and to discuss ways and means to meet salary hikes.

Dr. Clifford Swift, president of the board, said the meeting will be open and the patrons of the school will be welcome since the problem the Board is facing is one in which all are interested and the board wants the people to know every detail of the plans and problems of the board.

If teachers here are paid adequate salaries the board must get more money. To become a part of the state aid system and to share in the equalization fund of the state, might solve the problem but if the local school continues as at present more taxes will have to be levied here if teachers pay meets the minimum of $2000 specified in the new per capita law.

Dr. Swift spent Tuesday morning in Austin going over legislation already enacted and other bills to be passed.

It was expected that the Board here might issue a statement on the problem. It is generally agreed among all who want the facts and wish to help that the Board here should cause to be published a financial statement and a complete budget along with demands to meet the urgent need to pay adequate salaries. It is not likely anyone will understand fully the needs of the system unless this is done.

ALL OPERATORS BACK ON JOB IN CAMERON

The 43-day-old strike of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company Union workers came to an end early Saturday and the local exchange was fully manned when 16 of the union operators returned to supplement 6 already going back to work some days ago.

The settlement came when Union and company officials agreed in St. Louis early to-day.

C. L. Carson, of Taylor, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company manager, said:

"I am glad this strike is over. The strike has been a serious inconvenience to the public. The telephone company greatly appreciates the understanding and cooperation of the public. We welcome the return of our people to work. We are going to make every effort to restore telephone service to normal as quickly as possible, however I believe it will take a couple of days before service is back to normal," Carson said.

Two Fines Assessed Following Accident

Two fines, each in the sum of $100 were assessed here Monday in county court against Ernest Pratt of Marlow by Judge Dan Tyson.

Pratt entered a plea of guilt on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated and also to an assault with a motor vehicle.

Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp and her daughter, Mrs. William S. Brown, of Washington, D. C. who is here on a visit left Wednesday for Abilene where they will visit Mrs. Kemp's sister, Mrs. Rupert Harkrider, going by way of Waco where they spent a few hours visiting relatives.

PEACE SETTLES OVER SWITCHBOARD TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, — The last major dispute in the telephone industry was settled Tuesday signalling the end of the cross-country strike.

The settlement was on the basis of an 11 1-2 cent an hour average wage increase (or an estimated $4.60 a week) for 20,000 members of the Association of Communication Equipment Workers, employes of the Western Electric company in 42 states.

They walked out April 7 along with other telephone workers across the country. At one time the strikers were estimated to number 340,000 but in recent weeks the strike has been tapering to an end, with agreements being reached for one group after another.

The pattern took definite shape May 6 when the National Federation of Telephone Workers freed the 39 striking unions to bargain on their own for the best deals they could get. This loose freedom of 49 unions had hoped to become one big telephone union and up until May 6 required that it pass on any agreement.

What will become of the federation remains to be seen. It started out with demands for a $12 a week increase but reduced the demand to $6 on April 25 to fit the pattern of wage increases in other industries—15 cents an hour.

Many of the agreements were for a $2 to $4 wage increase, with some higher. The average appeared to be about $3.50 or $4. In addition to the flat boost, there was a sprinkling of "fringe" wage adjustment, covering related demands, which the NFTW estimated would average about $1 a week per striker.

John Murray, U. S. labor disputes conciliator, anounced the settlement between Western Electric and its equipment workers.

Altogether, the National Federation of Telephone workers said, wage increases had been granted to 360,000 workers as a result of their strike

COLD FRONT BREAKS THROUGH TO GULF

It is going to be fair and cool Wednesday and Thursday and good prospects for sunshine the remainder of the week.

A cold front that sent temperatures down to 50 in Fort Worth broke through to the Gulf Tuesday night and in its wake rain had peppered a vast section of the state.

Encouraging signs early Wednesday were ushered in with bright sunshine all over the state. Clouds had vanished and the forecast was for clear weather and getting much warmer by Thursday.

In the Cameron area a heavy shower fell late Tuesday and the norther brought relief from high humidity. North of the city considerably more rain was reported and heavy hail around Lott and Chilton.

Slight damage from high winds was reported but only to vegetation.

INSECTS COST MILAM COUNTY 10,000 BALES

Approximately one-seventh of The Texas Cotton crop is destroyed annually by insects, states J. W. Stufflebeme, Jr., County Agent.

Conservative estimates place the damage to the 1946 Milam county cotton crop at 10,000 bales or $2,000,000. The 1946 production of 9600 bales was the shortest crop in the history of the county.

The Texas Extension Service has prepared a guide for controlling cotton insects in Texas, which is available to all cotton farmers. It may be obtained at the county agent's office.

Cotton farmers who plan to carry on a poisoning program, and are interested in securing additional information should see the local vocational agriculture teacher or the county agent.

Food Not Guns Is World Needs Says Wallace In Austin Speech; Truman Policy Is Called International Carpetbagging; 10,000 Hear Him

AUSTIN, May 17, — A cheering, friendly crowd of 10,000 Texans tonight heard Henry A. Wallace point his road to world peace, voicing its loudest and longest applause when he urged a domestic policy of abolition of discriminating against minorities.

Wallace asked the audience—made up mostly of students from the University of Texas and other colleges over the state—to tell the folks back home "at the forks of the creek" that the only sure road to world peace is food for the starving, "not guns for decadent governments."

Wallace spoke at Gregory gymnasium on the campus of the university in "search of support for a positive peace program". He appeared under the auspices of several campus organizations.

He paid tribute to Dr. Homer P. Rainey, discharged University of Texas president and unsuccessful candidate for governor last summer on a liberal platform. Wallace listed Rainey as one of Texas' greats along with Sam Houston, John H. Reagan and Jim Hogg.

A noisy and somewhat disorderly crowd greeted Wallace on his arrival here last night. Window glass of an automobile displaying Soviet flags was broken by a group of more than a dozen college-age men after they unsuccessfully attempted to overturn it at the municipal airport.

A loudspeaker on the automobile which was driven by an unidentified young man, had been blaring a recording of "The Volga Boatman". At a press conference today Wallace made just one reference to the incident:

APPEAL WILL BE TAKEN IN HEMAN SWEATT CASE

AUSTIN. — Heman Marion Sweatt Houston negro, today was denied his court request for admission to the University of Texas law school.

Judge Roy Archer in 126th district court ruled that the colored letter carrier may not be admitted to the University law school and Sweatt's lawyers immediately announced they would appeal the case.

The ruling was made on the grounds that the Texas Constitution provides for separate schools and that the current session of the legislature has made no proposal to change the constitution in that respect.

"I think the mater is within the hands of the Court of Civil Appeals. Indeed, I may not have a right to make any other kind of judgment" Judge Archer said.

The court of civil appeals, to which the case was carried after Judge Archer previously rejected Sweatt's appeal last December, has "simply remanded it here to take further proceedings," the ruling noted.

"Since our constitution provides for separate schools and since this matter was up and since the legislature has not taken any steps to submit a constitutional amendment or make changes, the ruling will be the same as heretofore," Judge Archer said.

Thurgood Marshall, lawyer for the National Association For Advancement of Colored People who is representing Sweatt, said he would file notice immediately of an appeal to the third court of civil appeals.

Mr. and Mrs. Barlow Jackson had as their week end guest Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Harrison and daughter, Patricia of Luling, also Mr. and Mrs. Earvitt Grabener and daughter Kay of Seguin. And Mrs. Jacksons' sister, Mrs. J. L. McNeil from Big Spring visited her recently.

THEY CALL ME 'SCAB'

To The Daily Herald!

Long hours are short.

I hear the choking words, "—My father died last night, I must call my mother—".

A man buys cattle for our markets.

Officers of church and state confer.

Farmers sell their produce.

Beyond the last, thin circuit, a horseman takes our message.

My untrained hands are clumsy with the shining plugs. I am slow to find where they must go.

Still the pulse of my homeland beats; not leaping swiftly as it should, but firm and steady in my strong fingers.

My neighbors plan and work; they are born; they laugh, they weep; they hope.

Bound together by singing wires that span the earth. My country lives!

They call me —"Scab".

Is That MILK Really Skimmed?

The tiny globules of butterfat in milk and cream are literally liquid gold. The dairy industry in 1945 produced $3,632,146,000—or about 15% of the national farm income. Butterfat plays a big part in creating that wealth. That's why the milk you feed your hogs should be separated carefully. The butterfat is much too valuable to you to pour it into hog troughs along with the skim milk.

In more than three centuries, the American dairy industry has come a long way. But there's still a lot of hand-skimming—just the same way the Pilgrim Fathers skimmed their milk. That hand-skimming costs producers plenty, averaging 22% lost butterfat. Surveys show water-diluter separators lose an average of 18% of the butterfat, produce lower grading cream.

But mechanical separators, correctly adjusted and operated, will save all but a very small percentage of the butterfat. Moreover, tests have shown that producers who use mechanical separators market up to 71% of first-grade cream, while only about 40% of the hand- or water-separated cream marketed is first grade.

Thus, with even only three cows, a mechanical separator can pay for itself in as little as six months and begin earning a profit. The five minutes a day it takes to wash and sterilize a separator pays out well in dollars and cents.

Of course, there's a lot more to milk and cream quality than the method of separation used. It begins with healthy cows. Cleanliness every step of the way, quick cooling and frequent marketing—all count heavily. Nearly all state agricultural colleges offer detailed bulletins of improvement of the market value of milk and cream. They are profitable reading.

Improved quality* in the cream that we process at Swift & Company means improved nutrition for the nation . . . and nutrition is our business, and yours!

*Swift & Company cooperates with U. S. Department of Agriculture-Dairy Industry long term program; works with state departments of agriculture, college extension services, boards of health, 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers, American Butter Institute and other organizations interested in improving the quality of milk and cream. In 1946 we staged hundreds of producers' meetings for this purpose. This effort is being expanded this year.

Things are NOT always as they seem

That square seems to be a solid block of gray.

But look at it closely and you find it's made up of many individual dots.

Similarly, when some people "look at" Swift & Company, they see a big corporation. But if they look closely, they will see that Swift & Company is PEOPLE. Sixty-three thousand individual people (shareholders) who have pooled their savings to create and operate this business. Sixty-six thousand individual people (employees) who work for the company—livestock buyers, workers in plants, salesmen, office workers and managers. Their combined efforts create a market for your livestock, dairy and poultry and other agricultural products, and provide nourishing foods for the tables of America.

The Not-So-"Good Old Days"

In the "good old days" maybe your grandfather butchered three or four steers. The beef that he didn't need for his own use he could peddle without much trouble.

Today his grandson—perhaps it's you—may produce 30 or 300, or possibly 3,000 steers a year. It would be out of the question for you to butcher them yourself, and an utter impossibility to peddle from door to door all the beef you'd have. So you send your steers to market. There they are purchased by meat packers with facilities to handle thousands of head a day. There they are converted into meat. There's a minimum of waste. By-products are turned into useful products. And the meat is distributed to markets near and far, each weight and grade going wherever it will sell best.

Without the services of nationwide meat packers, such as Swift & Company, there would be no efficient, economical way to bridge the more than 1,000-mile average gap between producers and consumers. Without these services, livestock would have to be shipped long distances, cost of dressed meat would be higher, and consumers could not afford to buy as much meat, nor would they be as well fed.

Retire That Rooster

You'll get eggs that grade higher if you get rid of the roosters in your flock at the end of the breeding season. Infertile eggs keep better in hot weather. If non-producing hens are culled out at the same time, you'll save considerably on feed costs.

With more and more eggs being purchased on a graded basis, quality and cleanliness mean increased income to producers. The way to get uniform high-quality eggs is to keep your flock confined to the hen-house and yard, use dry litter, feed a balanced ration, gather eggs several times a day, keep them clean and cool, market them frequently.

Early Cut Hay is Better Feed

As Reported by Mark A. Shipley
University of Nevada

Steers wintered on meadow hay cut early in the season gained 151 pounds per head while a similar lot of steers fed late-cut hay lost 2 pounds per head. This interesting information is revealed in a report of an experiment conducted by the University of Nevada.

The two lots of steers averaged 535 pounds at the start of the feeding experiment in November. They were weighed again at the end of 100 days with the above result.

The hay classed as early cut was put up on July 10, and that classed as late cut was harvested on September 10.

After the 100-day period, all the steers were shipped back to the summer range which they had been on the previous summer. They were marketed in September. By that time, the lot fed the early-cut hay weighed 69 pounds more than those fed late-cut hay, according to the Nevada report. At 15 cents a pound, the extra gain was worth $10.35 more per steer.

Mrs. Zelisko was born in Austria on July 18, 1861 the daughter of Johann and Veronica Winkler.

They landed at Galveston on October 14, 1879 and made their home in Fayette county near Schulenberg and in 1880 Marie Winkler was married to F. W. Zelisko and moved with him to Lavaca county to make their home. In 1882 Mr. and Mrs. Zelisko moved to Milam county and settled near Cameron for a time, later moving to their home near Buckholts where they remained until 1907 when they moved to Haskell county.

Four More Request Share In Reward Fund

Four more names have been added to the reward fund for the arrest and conviction of person or persons guilty of poisioning dogs in Cameron.

The reward fund had reached almost $60 late Friday and no doubt will grow much larger as the people join in this movement to stamp out the crime of poisoning.

J. J. McCutcheon who lives in the Green addition to the city lost a fine Irish Setter, a young dog, kept in a pen most of the time but occasionally let out for exercise. Mr. McCutcheon paid a good price for this dog and feels his loss is heavy since he, like all good dog owners attaches more value on sentimental grounds than the cash outlay for a good dog. Needless to say he has contributed a substantial amount to the fund.

Kem Majors who owns one of the best known dogs in Cameron and who lives in the Green addition where a number of dogs have been killed with strychnine, telephoned that he wished to have his name added to the list. Kem loves dogs therefore is a good man.

Leo Jekel who is assessing taxes, came in on Friday and added his name to the list. Mr. Jekel is a true dog lover and says that in the country where he goes to assess taxes that he finds out how much the farmers think of their dogs. Leo owns dogs too and has had them killed by poison.

Late Friday Mrs. Jay Nabors requested that her name be placed on the list to have a share in the reward, Mrs. Nabours has for years owned a kennel of English Terrier dogs, perhaps the finest in the county and it was only natural for her to have a share in stopping the crime of dog poisoning in Cameron.

Pfc. W. C. Porubsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Porubsky who has been stationed in Tokyo for the past eleven months has returned home. Pfc. Porubsky served as Mounted Policeman while in Japan.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

When Ed's Crops Failed

Three years ago Ed Smith's luck went bad. His crops failed, and it wasn't long before Ed's home and furnishings were up for auction.

Half the town turned out, and Ed must have thought his neighbors were a bunch of hungry vultures—buying up all his precious possessions for a song.

When it was over, and the auctioneer had left, Sam Abernathy turns to the crowd and says: "All right, folks, let's take time out for a glass of beer, and then put this stuff back where it belongs!"

Two hours later, Ed was in possession of his home and furnishings; and the folks who'd paid for them were sitting around Ed's fire enjoying a neighborly glass of beer — to show their friendship and their confidence in Ed.

Today, Ed's back on his feet—another constructive member of the community. And from where I sit, we've all been well repaid—a good investment in a good man.

"Cuts my Kitchen-Time in Half!"

"The automatic features and well planned work centers of my All-Electric Kitchen cut my kitchen time in half ... and thus give me time to relax and do other things that need my attention."

The modern All-Electric Kitchen is planned like an assembly line ... with food preparation center, consisting of electric refrigerator and food mixer; cooking and serving center, comprising the electric range, roaster and other cooking appliances; and sink and dishwashing center, for clean-up. And they all have automatic features to save your time and conserve your energy.

Yes, you'll find it fun to work in your electric kitchen ... and economical, too! Your TP&L electricity, which is one of the few items in your cost of living that has actually gone down in price since the war, does all the real work ... and at lower cost per kilowatt-hour than ever before.

It's fun planning your electric kitchen, too. Call on your electric appliance dealer for suggestions on how to arrange "work centers" that will save your time and energy.

You may install your electric kitchen step by step, to suit your convenience or your budget, letting each new kitchen appliance you buy contribute its share to the realization of your dream kitchen!

NO EXCUSE FOR NATION TO HAVE A DEPRESSION

WASHINGTON, May 15, — President Truman declared today there is no need ever to have a depression and presented this formula to prevent it: Just use common sense, and don't let the greedy people get control of the country.

He again expressed belief that prices are too high.

The president's views were sought at his news conference in connection with a report by Chester Bowles, former price administrator, which a questioner interpreted as predicting a "bust." Mr. Truman declined to comment directly on the report on the ground he had not seen it. But when asked whether he believes a "bust" is coming, he answered no.

Then we asked for a positive expression, and to that question he returned that he does not think there is any necessity for ever having a bust provided common sense is used and greedy people do not get control.

Mr. Truman added that there has not been much cooperation toward that end legislatively or publicly but praised the price reductions that have been made.

Bowles made his report as head of an economic stability committee of Americans for democratic action, a new political organization. It declared a business drop is "imminent" but can be minimized if:

1. Prices are rolled back an average of 10 per cent through a presidentially-appointed "price adjustment board."

2. The 15-cent hourly "package" wage increase is adopted generally by industry and by federal and local governments.

3. Congress scraps the 10-to-30 per cent income tax cut bill and adopts, in its stead, a simple increase in individual exemptions from $500 to $700.

PHONE COMPANY WOULD BOOST WAGE $4 WEEK

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has announced that it has made a final wage offer to Union workers to settle the strike and has briefly outlined the provision of that offer as follows:

The Company's final wage offer to the Union made last night would mean:

1. An immediate wage increase of $4.00 per week to all employees.

2. An increase of $4.00 per week in top rates for all employees.

3. An increase of $3.00 a week in all plant craftsman's starting rate and in all other starting rates except those in the small towns where the increase is $2.00.

R. E. Wright Resigns As Pastor of Gospel Tabernacle Church

Friends and members of the Full Gospel Church entertained Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Wright with a chicken barbecue at the Wilson-Ledbetter Park Monday afternoon. There were about 150 present. The group was called to order by O. L. Hayes who presented the guests with a set of luggage as a gift from the church.

Rev. Wright resigned his pastorate of the Full Gospel Church here to accept the call to work in the colleges, universities and high schools of six southern states.

Mrs. Wright and their two sons will remain in Cameron until school closes, when they will make their home in Dallas.

Reward Fund Grows To $42 as Citizens Respond To Call

Indications at noon Friday were that the people of Cameron will make the reward fund for arrest and conviction of those guilty of poisoning dogs, something to be reckoned with in the current outburst of indignation over these crimes.

Already six have called to add their subscriptions to the fund and now the amount has reached $42. The plan is to make this reward some $500 or more so that many will interest themselves in racking down and bringing to justice everyone guilty of destroying dogs by poison or otherwise.

Since Thursday the following have subscribed: Bill Morrison, county attorney who says he thinks The Herald has done a fine thing in sponsoring this movement to stop destruction of valuable dogs; Mrs. Jewel Westbrook, joins the reward offer for she owns "Butch" who was found through the columns of the Daily Herald a year or more ago; Mrs. C. N. Payne at Dr. Swift's clinic telephones that she wants a share in the reward offer and says "I would not take a million dollars for my dog." Dan Lunsford, former city marshal says he wants to help and speaks of a fine Collie dog he now owns. Will Crane, a real dog lover, came in early Friday and put his name on the list.

The Herald does not want large pledges, but does very much desire a large number and a big fund to give speedy effect to this effort to stop the crimes incident to poisoning and shooting dogs.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mikeska and mother, Thresa Mikeska of Placedo were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Marek last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Norman from Fort Sill, Okla. visited friends and relatives in Cameron and Travis this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Deer have returned to their home after spending a three week vacation with Mrs. Deer's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Hooker who reside in El Paso. During their stay the group spent a week in Chihuahua, Mexico, where they attended a Bull Fight, and visited in Panchio Villa's Palace.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weems of West Columbia were the guests of Mrs. Lilyan Weems over the week end.

RECORD RURAL AID BILL TO GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, — The 50th legislature's lagging session moved one essential step nearer final adjournment today with final enactment of a record rural aid bill by both senate and the house.

It was the first of the session's must big-money bills to go to the desk of Gov. Beauford H. Jester. It calls for expenditure by the state of $36,000,000 during the next two years for schools in the so-called rural brackets, compared with $28,000,000 during the current biennium.

The first rural aid bill ever passed was enatcted in the administration of Gov. James E. Ferguson 32 years ago, and it totalled $1,000,000.

Legislative action today was concurrence by the senate, then the house, in a free conference committee's report reconciling differences in the original house-passed and senate-passed versions of the bill. The house bill had called for expenditure of $39,000,000, the senate bill $34,000,000.

FOOD NOT GUNS—

"When I saw the flags, some perverse imp caused me to say: 'what oilman paid for that?' "

The text of Wallace's speech made just one indirect reference to criticism of his series of attacks on President Truman's plan of aid to Greece and Turkey, by Rep. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex). Johnson, representative from this congressional district, had said during house debate on the plan:

"If Wallace expects to play politics with an issue affecting the security of our people, the forum for him in his appeasement doctrine is not before the the clear-eyed, stout-hearted Texans."

Obviously referring to Johnson, Wallace said he was proud as was every American, "of clear-eyed, stout-hearted Texans."

Then he named, Houston, Hogg, and Rainey, along with Milo Perkins of Houston, Grover Hill of Amarillo, Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham of New Waverly, J. C. Capt of San Antonio, with whom he had been associated in Washington.

The former vice-president and cabinet member repeated many of the criticisms of the bi-partisan aid plan voiced earlier in speeches abroad and at home.

Misses Abie and Gladys Pierce had as their guests for the week end, their mother, Mrs. Young Pierce of San Saba; brother, E. E. Pierce of Lubbock; sisters Nettie Scott of San Saba, and Mrs. J. F. Tomlinson of Brooksville; and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Forbus and daughter, Lounell; and O. A. Tomlinson and daughters, Patsie and Glenda, of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles Pugh of Beaumont, formerly of Cameron, have concluded a few days visit here last week with relatives and friends.

NEW BRIDGE HERE—

senate. The senator pointed out that the people have been sorely in need of this bridge for years and concluded: "Now, people of Milam county, and travelers from Oklahoma to the gulf can go their merry way and let the water go its way."

After the speeches were over Mrs. Kemp walked from the platform to the bridge with Mayor McCullin, Judge Tyson, Senator Vick and Mr. Knetch and with tears in her eyes, clipped the ribbon. Eager suvenir hunters pressed forward to get a share of the ribbon.

The first car to cross the bridge was occupied by Senator Vick, Henry G. Lehman, representative from Giddings, Mr. Knetch and Coy Arledge, driving a sports Chrysler.

Then followed what highway patrolmen said was at least 1200 automobiles requiring almost an hour to get across the mile long causeway.

On the speakers stand for the ceremonies were Senator Vick, Mr. Knetch, Mr. Perrin, Judge Tyson, Mrs. Kemp, Jesse James, state treasurer, Bill Morrison, district attorney for Milam county, Judge Eldward Braverick of Caldwell, Byron Neal, county commissioner of Milam county, C. S. Rainey, county commissioner from Buckholts, T. F. Locklin, county commissioner from Thorndale, W. W. Markham, county commissioner from Cameron.

A. E. Taylor, city manager of Temple, Leslie Huff, president of Temple Chamber of Commerce, W. Hammond Moore, manager of Temple Chamber of Commerce, Elmore Torn, of Longview, representative of East Texas Chamber of Commerce, C. R. Isaacs, county auditor from Rockdale, Lon Peebles of Milano, W. B. Elliott, Mayor of Thorndale, Rev. Tulloch.

State Rep. H. G. Lehmann of Giddings, A. N. Green, representative from Cameron, V. R. Schmidt, resident engineer of the highway department who supervised the building of the bridge, O. M. Smith of Cameron, J. B. Newton, mayor of Rockdale, W. P. Hogan of Rockdale, Clyde Franklin of Rockdale, Lester Williams, president of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, August Horstmann, member of the Cameron city commission, August Kunz, member of the Cameron city commission, L. G. Smith, manager of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, and Homer Nabors, county clerk of Milam county.

The bridge, which spans Little River a short distance from the site of an old ferry landing which was in use 100 years ago, was contracted to Thomas and Ratliff of Rogers by the late Jeff Kemp, county judge, and members of the commissioners court. They were Grady Stidham of Cameron, E. L. McGuyer of Rockdale, W. E. Kuzel of Buckholts and E. G. Stiles of Thorndale.
